

Online Courses for High School Students
1-888-972-6237

Global History II

Global History II is the continuation of the chronological study of the world started in Global History I. This course focuses on the period 1750 – present day. Several concepts covered throughout the course include industrialization, nationalism, imperialism, conflict, and the interconnectedness of the world. Students will continue to develop their CRQ and Enduring Issues Essay writing skills.

Prerequisite: Global History I

Course Length: Two semesters

Required Text: World History Patterns of Interaction – McDougal Littell (ISBN-13: 978-0-618-91330-5; ISBN-10: 0-618-91330-0)

Course Outline:

Unit 1: Age of Revolutions

- Scientific Revolution and the Enlightenment
- Political Revolutions in Latin America and France

Unit 2: Nationalism

- Nationalism

Unit 3: Industrial Revolution

- The Industrial Revolution
- Economic Systems
- Transformations Around the World

Unit 4: Imperialism

- Imperialism

Unit 5: World War I

- World War I

Unit 6: Dictators and World War II

- Russian Revolution
- Inter-War Period
- World War II

Unit 7: Colonial Independence Africa, India and China

- New Nations in Africa
- Conflicts in the Middle East
- Chinese Communist Revolution
- Contemporary China
- Case Study Southeast Asia
- India's Freedom

Unit 8: Cold War and Modern World

- Cold War
- Collapse of the Soviet Union
- Changes in Europe
- China: Reform
- Latin America
- Global Interdependence
- Global Economics and Security
- Case Study: Terrorism/Cultural